

Centaurus

An International Journal of the History of Science and its Cultural Aspects

Editor: Ida Stamhuis

Assistant Editor: Claire Neesham

Book Review Editor: Raf de Bont

Associate Editors: Peter Barker, Pietro Corsi, Matthias Heymann

Centaurus is an international English language journal of the history of science and its cultural aspects. The journal was started in 1950 and has remained one of the major journals devoted to the study of the history of science. Centaurus publishes an international spectrum of original research papers, review articles, notes and commentaries on the history of science, mathematics, medicine, biomedical science, earth science and technology, and their social and cultural aspects. Book reviews and review essays of publications within the journal's scope are also included. The Editor also encourages suggestions for special issues, short papers on topics of current interest and articles suited to open peer commentary along with potential commentators.

Upcoming Issue

Volume 52, Issue 4, November 2010

Spotlight on: Post-WW2 Transatlantic Science Policies

Abir-Am P. G.: Introduction to Spotlight on Post-WW2 Transatlantic Science Policies: Comparing Strategic, Political, and Economic Agendas in the United States of America, Europe, and East Asia

Krige J.: Building the Arsenal of Knowledge

Oreskes N.: Science, Technology and Free Enterprise

Doel R. E.: Does Scientific Intelligence Matter?

Abir-Am P. G.: The Rockefeller Foundation and the Post-WW2 Transnational Ecology of Science Policy: from Solitary Splendor in the Inter-war Era to a 'Me Too' Agenda in the 1950s

Westwick P. J.: The International History of the Strategic Defense Initiative: American Influence and Economic Competition in the Late Cold War

Reviews

European Society for the History of Science - Letter from the Future President

For information on the European Society for the History of Science, including membership rates, please visit: www.eshs.org

wileyonlinelibrary.com/journal/cnt

 WILEY  ONLINE LIBRARY